Policy Statement

Participants and their carers, guardians or advocates are encouraged to provide feedback to Thrive365 at any time. Sometimes this may constitute a concern or a complaint. Thrive365 provides a number of mechanisms and opportunities for participants to provide feedback or raise a complaint. When a Participant (and/or carer) raises a concern or complaint, Thrive365 will manage this promptly and fairly, according to principles of natural justice and with due regard to the Participant's (and/or carer's) rights and without fear of retribution.

Thrive365 considers feedback, concerns and complaints as an opportunity to review our policies, procedures and processes and to facilitate continuous improvement of our services.

Your Rights and Expectations in Using Thrive365 as a Service Provider

As a participant using services provided by Thrive365 you:-

- Will be provided with NDIS services that are in accordance with your approved NDIS and a documented service agreement between yourself and Thrive365.

- Will be consulted with and must agree to any changes in service provision and your service agreement amended accordingly
- Will be treated with courtesy and respect at all times
- Can expect that services delivered to you are provided in a safe and competent manner by appropriately trained staff.
- Will have your personal information treated confidentially and stored safely
- Can provide feedback or raise a complaint about your service, a staff member, another participant or Thrive365 generally, at any time, without fear of retribution or withdrawal of service
- Can receive the support of another person external to Thrive365 such as an advocate, family member or friend to provide feedback or raise a complaint

If at any time a participant or a person associated with a participant believes that these expectations are not being met, they are encouraged to provide feedback using any of the mechanisms described in this policy.

Making a Complaint to Thrive365

Thrive365 provides a number of ways for participants, their carers or advocates to raise complaints and feedback including:-

- Via our website
- Directly to the accommodation manager or CEO via email, phone or face to face
- Via a third party such as support co-ordinator or other significant person
- Via participant survey or annual family meeting
- Through weekly participant house meetings
- Anonymously using any of these mechanisms

What if I don't want to complain directly to Thrive365 ?

We understand that people sometimes wish to provide feedback directly to a third party instead of their provider. Participants, their carers, advocates and members of the general public can raise a complaint directly with the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission by phoning 1800 035 544 or visiting their website <https://www.ndiscommission.gov.au> and hitting These details are also contained in your service agreement.

The role of Advocates and other Support People

Thrive365 recognises the importance of advocates or other significant supports in enabling people to feel more comfortable in both making a complaint and participating in the resolution process of such a complaint. Thrive365 will ascertain from the participant if they would like additional supports in place to initiate and navigate a feedback process. This may include a senior staff member contacting the participant's support co-ordinator or family member or an external advocacy agency.

Confidentiality of Complaints

Thrive365 treats all complaints confidentially. This includes limiting access to stored data about complaints and their investigation.

Some complaints may require Thrive365 to notify a relevant government body as part of our legislated reporting requirements. These include:-

- Suspected criminal behaviour
- A matter that constitutes a reportable incident to Quality and Safeguards Commission.
- A situation that presents a significant risk to the complainant or to another person.

In these circumstances Thrive365 will inform the participant and/or their support person of any requirements to notify a complaint to a third party and offer additional assistance to ensure adequate support is in place.

Procedures

- Thrive365 provides information on providing feedback and making a complaint as part of our participant onboarding process. This information is also available on our website and in our service agreements. This information includes how to escalate a concern or complaint beyond Thrive365 to the NDIA and Ombudsman.
- All staff receive training on feedback and complaints handling as part of their orientation procedure.

Management of Simple Complaints

Some concerns or complaints received may be simple in nature and addressed quickly and easily either by the person receiving the complaint or their line manager.

Such complaints may include but are not limited to:-

- Building maintenance concerns
- Complaints about noise
- Complaints about a meal or food
- Complaints about an activity or outing

- Complaints about another resident (providing this doesn't include an instance of harm)

These matters can generally be resolved quickly by the disability support worker who receives the concern/complaint or with input from their line manager.

Simple complaints are to be logged as incident reports in Thrive365's incident reporting system and the resolution to be documented. Incident reports are then reviewed and closed out by the line manager who will review the resolution implemented and determine if this is sufficient or further steps need to be taken.

Storage and Internal Reporting of Complaints

Simple complaints will be logged and tracked via Thrive365 incident reporting system.

The CEO will maintain a complaints register and all associated documents for matters requiring investigation including matters involving another service provider or staff member .

The CEO provides the Director with a record of serious/complex complaints, their resolution and continuous improvement recommendations as part of regular monthly reporting.

Investigation of matters involving Staff or Criminal matters

If the complaint involves a senior staff member the CEO in conjunction with HR will conduct any investigations and direct liaison with the participant and their representative.

If the complaint involves the CEO, the matter will be referred to the Director for investigation and resolution

Thrive365 will not undertake any internal investigation process of potentially criminal matters until provided with consent to do so by police. Any internal investigation process that runs concurrently with a criminal investigation can adversely impact evidence.

System Implementation and Staff Training

Thrive365's complaint management system forms part of the organization's documented staff induction process.

Policies and procedures are available for staff reference via our HR system Deputy for staff reference at any time.
